

Dear members of the APHCQ,

You are cordially invited to the association's annual congress to be held this year on Thursday, May 26th in 'The Loft' at Cégep de Trois-Rivières (<https://www.cegeptr.qc.ca/>).

Given the continuing pandemic conditions, the Executive Committee has decided it is preferable to hold the conference over the course of one day only, however, there will be a 5 à 7 for all those interested on the eve of the congress.

On tap this year!

Wednesday, May 25th at 5 PM :

5 à 7 at 'Le Temps d'une Pinte', microbrasserie, restaurant and coffee house (<https://letempsdunepinte.ca/>).

Please RSVP your attendance on the registration form to allow the organizing committee to make the necessary reservations.

Thursday, May 26th: (more details on the followings pages)

- 8h30 Welcome
- 9h00 Conference by Jean-Philippe Warren, Professor of Sociology, Concordia University
- 11h00 Break & Publishing Houses

- 13h30 APHCQ General Assembly

Registration and Fees

The registration form can be found at <https://www.aphcq.ca/adherez.html>

Late registrations will be accepted on the day of the congress, however, to help facilitate the organization of the day's events, the organizing committee would appreciate registrations in advance whenever possible.

 Note that congress fees include the annual membership to the APHCQ for the 2022-2023 year.

- 100$ Regular and Associate Memberships (subsidized by college/company)
- 75$ Non-subsidized, Student and Retired memberships

 If possible, virtual access to Jean-Philippe Warren's keynote talk will be provided (via Zoom) to all 2022-2023 members who have renewed their annual membership to the APHCQ

Our conferences

Opening Conference 9 AM :

« Histoire mondiale du Québec » (conference in French)

What place does Quebec history have in the new competency? How to integrate this element in our courses?

In this conference talk, Dr. Jean-Philippe Warren aims to echo the book Histoire mondiale de la France by Patrick Boucheron.

Jean-Philippe Warren is professor of Sociology and Anthropology at Concordia University, and Co-Director of « Democracy and Pluralism » at the Center for Interdisciplinary Research on Diversity and Democracy (CRIDAQ) at UQAM. He is also an associate member of the Gail and Stephen A. Jarislowsky Institute for Studies in Canadian Art, as well as recipient of the 2015 Governor General's award in the category of French non-fiction for his work, Honoré Beaugrand : la plume et l'épée (1848-1906).

He is a specialist in the history and sociology of 20th century Quebec.

Plenary Session on « La méthode historique », 11:30 AM

« L'importance de la pensée historique chez les jeunes : l'histoire essentielle à la formation citoyenne et professionnelle » (conference in French)

Brief introduction by Dr. Stéphane Lévesque followed by a plenary discussion.

Stéphane Lévesque is Associate Professor of history education and Director of the Virtual History Lab (VH Lab) at the Faculty of Education, University of Ottawa. In the fall of 2011, he was visiting professor of digital history at Umea University in Sweden. His research focuses on students' historical thinking and consciousness, Canadian history, citizenship education, and new media and technology in education. In the early spring of 2011, Dr. Lévesque opened the Virtual Historian Laboratory (VH Lab). Funded by CFI, this is the first research center in Canada to study on-line learning of history.

Meals and Lodgings

A variety of sandwiches, cheese, vegetables, salads and desserts will be on offer for lunch. A least one option will be vegetarian.

No preferential hotel arrangements have been made in Trois-Rivières given the one day duration of the congress, however, members of the executive committee will be staying at the Delta Trois-Rivières for any who may wish to reserve a hotel room : <https://www.marriott.fr/hotels/travel/yrqdr-delta-hotels-trois-rivieres-conference-centre/>
